As the years pass, we live, we grow, and we learn. We meet new people, share new experiences, and look back on the past. We define ourselves through the smiles, laughs, and tears encountered along the way. As one journey comes to an end another begins; live through your happiness, learn through your mistakes, and be who you are. Spread your wings...

-General George S. Patton

So senior year is finally here. Four years come and gone so fast, it's unbelievable, and I wish I could re-live a lot of those moments I had at Nauset. I've met some of the coolest people and have had some of the best teachers of the long, but short part of our life at school. And to all of those teachers I've had at Nauset I'd just like to say thank you. But most importantly I need to say thank you to my family. Mom and Dad have been there for me every single step of the way saying, "As long as I try that's all that matters." And to you Brittanny and Karlie, my two sisters, Karlie always lightening the moment when needed and Brittanny always someone I could go to talk to, and quickly I just want to mention Michelle. I haven't known you all through high school, but you have made the past two years very memorable. For everything you have done I need to say thank you! All in all, school was fun while it lasted but nothing is for ever. I will miss everyone here at Nauset, and although this part of my life is over a new one is just around the corner.

Benjamin Schofield Berry

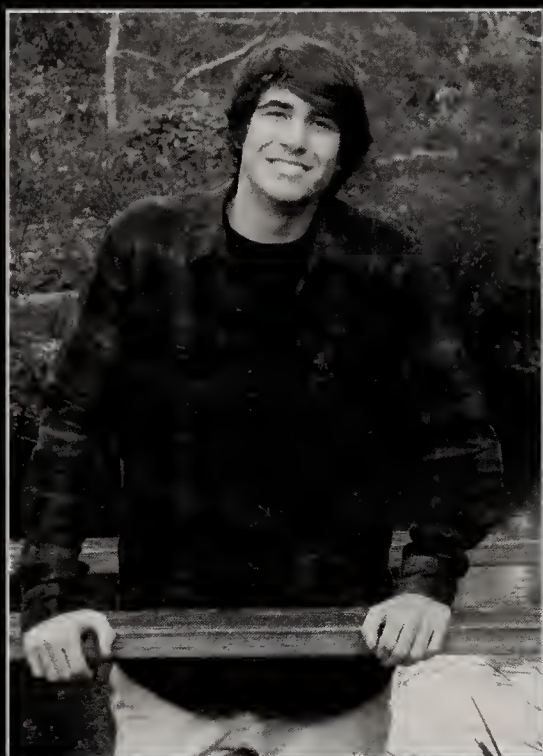

"Your work is to discover your world and then with all your heart give yourself to it."

With the lessons fostered throughout these four years both inside and outside of the classroom I am ready for the beginning of that new journey. So long for now to the Sailing team, Student Council, and the countless people who have shaped my life, we'll meet again.

I, Ben Berry, bequeath to my brother, Ross, the Camry, and to all the community: take part in its growth as it has done for us.

We're told that our high school experience will be over before we know it, but many students feel it's a life sentence. Sitting here in my senior year writing this, I don't know where the time went. Nauset has been instrumental in my growth and development, both as a student and a person. I've made friends and enemies, and all are important because they've helped me discover who I am. I set out to leave my mark on the school, be like no other student, and I hope I have.

High school has been a journey. There have been good times and bad times. Regardless, I have survived, and as long as one enjoys the good and ignores the bad it is an enjoyable experience. After all, life can be full of horrible things such as essays, projects, and lunch, but there are also those few shining moments that cut through the hazy darkness of the distressful day to day. As long as you let the shining good lead you and ignore the bad you can make it out all right. After all, I have.

It's hard to believe that four years have passed by so quickly and how I entered here as one person and left as another. I never thought that I could change so much in such little time. SWS and dual enrollment were the best decisions I made. Don't be afraid to try new things, except for the new diet drinks in the soda machines. Are we really that fat? I entered this place and I could get soda from the machines and now I can't even get a regular vitamin water. Don't let others stand in your way of your dreams or anyone keep you down.

I want to give thanks to all of the people that have stood by me through the years even if there were problems along the way. Thanks Mom for being there through thick and thin even if I haven't always shown you it back. And to my grandparents that have housed me and taken care of me the entire time I have lived on Cape Cod. BOOM! Four years and high schools there and gone just like that. Who would have known it would come so fast, and who would have known how weird it feels that we're actually leaving high school. I doubt I'll ever grow up the way our culture wants us all to, and I can't say that upsets me, but I can say that there's never enough time to do what you want to in high school so don't waste another second and don't be afraid to live your life. Oh and don't be cliché- like that line.

To my dear, dear friends: together we've climbed up trees and through tunnels, danced wildly on nights with nothing to do, stargazed and picnicked in the depths of the graveyard, felt saucy and sassy, and jumped down the infamous dunes. Laura&Maddie- since pre-school, you girls have been there since day one, love you ladies. The crew- you guys have been great! I wish you all the best. Mom&Dad- Thanks for always supporting me, I love you guys. Kurt- You're a great older bro, thanks for breaking in Mom&Dad. To everyone else- Thanks for making Nauset great. See ya later Cape Cod!

I, Lianna Wissmann, bequeath the Nauset Girl's Swim Team an amazing season & "chin power."

Jennifer Rose Withrow

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

- Ralph Waldo Emerson

My thank-yous are split four ways. To Cape Cod, for giving me a wonderful place to grow up. To all the 'babygirls' and 'babyboys' who've shown me more of the Cape than I ever would have discovered on my own. To my mom and dad for reminding me that while I may leave, there will always be a home to come back to. And to Kim, for giving me the courage to leave at all.

I, Jenny Withrow, bequeath cheesecake in New York to Marina Wells, warm hats to Robyn Argo, and endless acronyms to Daniel.

Joselyn Woods

"If you love someone, set them free. If they come back they're yours; if they don't they never were."
- Richard Bach

Madeline Elizabeth Wunder

"Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars."

It is hard to believe how quickly these past four years have flown by and that we are about to start a new chapter in our lives. I would like to thank my family for all their love and support which has allowed me to thrive during my years at Nauset High. I would also like to thank Mr. Canrad and the Guidance staff for all their support and cooperation with my schedule. To my friends, thank you for all the great memories. They will certainly be cherished. Lastly, Andrew, thank you for all the laughs, memories and support - it means the world to me! I Love you!

PVT. Adrian Young

"A man's got to know his limitations"
- Dirty Harry

I believe the most significant thing that I will take away from Nauset High will be the years I spent with Mr. Grubiak and Mrs. Grazier. The many fun times that I had as a math intern in their class will always stick with me. Thanks for being so good to me over the years. HOOAH!!

I, PVT. Adrian Young, bequeath another great season of track to Tim Couto, epic stealth power to Brian Chin in his ghillie suit, and an endless supply of dirty jobs to Mike Rowe.

Lana Younis

"Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened."

- Dr. Seuss

Mom, Dad, Nadia, and Adam - You guys are my everything. Thank you for hanging in there and helping me through. I love you all more than words can explain. Krissy - My other half! 15 years and counting! Imani - Through thick and thin, You know me better than anyone else does. Thanks for everything! Kayla - We constantly keep each other laughing! I couldn't have gone through this year without you. Well everyone, it's been quite a journey. Congrats 2010 and good luck! Here's to new beginnings!

Jean Philippe Beaudet

"You will never be more lovely than you are now.
We will never be here again."

- Achilles

Nauset has been really good to me. I only went to school here for my Junior and Senior years, but I had a blast. I'll miss everything about this school, and I encourage every kid who comes through here to savor every moment. My friends know who they are, and they know that they've meant a ton to me these last two years. Tony - From our trip to Boston, to our endless pursuit of snow leopards. Gianna to our many near fatal car trips. Zack and Rachel, I'll miss it all. It was never Miami, guys.

Senior Stars

Over the past four years, senior advisors, class officers, and senior senate have organized creative fundraisers to assure a great senior year for the class of 2010. One of those such endeavors was the first Quidditch tournament which raised about $1000 for the class. All of the money raised helps to lower the cost for senior prom, beachcomber, and festivities associated with graduation.

Boy's Soccer

The Nauset Boys Soccer Team's season was one to remember. Throughout the season they only lost one game and it was during the ACL Tournament. It was a heart wrenching loss for everyone, but we are all proud of how the boys played. During Homecoming, the boys danced around the gym pretending to be today's top hit music sensations. They danced to music like You Belong With Me by Taylor Swift, and All The Single Ladies by Beyonce.

They started the year strongly with three tri-captain seniors. "The seniors this year really balanced each other out" Tory Eldridge said, "They worked perfectly together." They ended the season at 5-11-1 but they made great strides from last year. This year they managed to score a goal against their rival, the Harwich Rough Riders. Their homecoming skit included a mock sacrificing of two football players and a cross country player. After this ritual, they broke into dance to Mika's hit song "We are Golden".

AREAS OF STUDY

As we take the time to look at the areas of study Nauset students are offered, it is clear why we are high fliers. We are fortunate to have so many options to express ourselves through the wide range of electives and gather valuable knowledge through core classes. It's Time to fly through the classrooms of Nauset!

School Within a School

The SWS program offers students a creative and open environment, and supports the idea that learning occurs outside as well as inside of the classroom. It involves project-based, integrated English and History classes from the perspective of both the winners and losers of history. They get to know each other while hiking in the White Mountains, and continue throughout the year with field trips and a series of guest speakers which connect us to the larger community. Diane Keon, Karen Novacon, and Paul Davies all embrace the wide variety of the students in the program.

Mr. Davies Trip to the Big Apple

The World Citizenship class traveled to the Big Apple where they explored and discovered history both new and old that expanded their horizons. Adventures they had while visiting New York were the Museum of Natural History, seeing the Broadway play Hair, checking out Chinatown, Little Italy, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and Times Square. Astronomy 1 and 2, Mythology, and World Citizenship in a New Millennium are classes offered throughout the school year as interesting electives.

History & English

History and English are tied together in many ways throughout your high school career. As you read and discuss books in English, the information links back to the time period you are studying in history. As a senior, there are many options to decide what path of history you want to take. A new course this year, taught by Mr. Evans is called International Relations. This class introduces you to the political, economic, and social issues occurring in our world today.

Each year, the freshmen students are required to pick a topic from Western Civilization and must create a visual project from that time period (right).

English is the one class required to be taken all four years of high school. There are many courses that can be chosen, ranging from Home and Away, a class dedicated to reading books, to Creative Writing and Speech and Debate. The students above are enjoying the reading and writing of their English classes.

Mathematics

Math is a part of our everyday lives. At Nauset the Math Department offers a wide range of courses that prepare students for their future. If you're thinking about being an engineer, accountant, or just trying to balance a check book, math is a must!

Fred Ritvo uses his calculator to solve a riveting math problem during a college prep math class (above).

Science OUR WORLD

Science students have visited other schools, volunteered in the community, designed independent research projects and helped with professional ones. In every Science class students are working on a better understanding of our world because as Albert Einstein said: "We can't solve problems by using the same kind of thinking we used when we created them".

Soaring Through Cultures

Learning to speak another language after moving half-way across the world is even a tougher challenge than you may think. Chau Geok Khim (left) from Malaysia, Alejandro Garcia (center) from Spain, and Manuel Monti (right) from Mexico are three students who have had that experience here at Nauset. With the guidance of Mr. Wood, Mrs. Carpenter, and Mrs. Butcher, English as a Second Language is offered at Nauset where students receive help with their courses and support for living in the community.

"Differences cease to be an obstacle, when we realize that we are different. Thank you for the incredible experience at Nauset." - Manuel and Alex

Climbing High

In the photo below students prepare to climb the rock wall in the gym for preparation of the outdoor course. Students taking Outdoor Education will participate in group challenges based on trust and team building. A progression of individual and group initiatives will prepare the student for using the Outdoor Education Course made of logs, ropes, and cables. Students will learn spotting techniques and safety procedures for climbing.

Drama

The Serpent comes together as all of the members of the cast play their roles on stage (right).

Madeline Kolbald and Eli Powers play the main roles of Adam and Eve in The Serpent (right).

Victoria Smith plays the role of Iris Kelly in the musical Fame (below).

Evan Charbonneau plays Lord Capulet, Maya Hatch as the nurse, and Elizabeth Rego as Juliet (far left).

Molly Champely, Sam Paine, Eric Oxtoby, and Katherine Beasley are a part of the Nauset Backstage group. They are the ones who make it all happen and without them and many others, entertainment wouldn't be possible (below).

Taking the Stage

The Serpent was the play that the Drama Club brought to competition, where they successfully made it to the second round for the third year in a row. This play captured the elements of life, including the story of Adam & Eve and the JFK Assassination. Along with The Serpent, came Romeo & Juliet. During the fall, the drama cast showed the play to many people in the Nauset community. The main role of Juliet was played by both Katherine Munroe and Elizabeth Rego, the girls took on the challenges of sharing the part and managed it well. The students ended the year strongly and successfully.

NAUSET'S INSTRUMENTAL MUSICIANS

The Band Program has a long history of successes and accomplishments in music performance and education on Cape Cod. Presently, there are four wind/percussion performance ensembles at Nauset High School. Each group shares in the overall successes we have recently enjoyed at regional and national (and international) festivals. The band program has increased to more than one-tenth of the overall school population. Students from these ensembles are among the most dedicated and committed in the school. They work together to create outstanding music and an esprit de corps that is continually growing and strengthening.

Recent recognition has been given to our musicians for their success at the Boston Classic Music Festival. Silver Medals were awarded to the Concert Band and String Orchestra. The Jazz Ensemble placed first in their division and was awarded a gold medal.

NAUSET'S VOCAL MUSICIANS

The choral Program has become known for its excellence and beautiful singing on and off Cape Cod. Presently, there are three choruses set in the school day and an after school men's extra-curricular ensemble called Acafellas. Students are serious, dedicated, and committed to their vocal art. The group experience of working in community to perform quality, choral literature creates close peer connections on campus. In addition, solo singing is encouraged through studio recitals held once a month.

This year the Music program experienced great success at the Boston Classic Music Festival. The Treble, Honors, and other select choirs recieved gold medals and a silver medal was awarded to the Concert Chorus. All of the participants did a wonderful job of representing out school.

You have filled our homes with music, love, adventures and & laughter. Know that whatever road you choose in life we are right behind you win or lose, to lend a hand or gentle guidance. We are so proud of the fine young men you've become.

Best of luck in all you do!

With love from your families

ISABEL CAROL SMITH GALVIN

You have a long name, for you are a powerful young woman named after your great-grandmother. Your great grandmother, "Nana", is still going strong at 101 years young.

Dearest Isabel:

You have brought into this world an incredibly gifted and blessed "strength of character" at your tender young age.

"You came into our world a cherished joy". Every moment, every hour, and all of our days filled with love, gratitude and happiness.

Your DAD is smiling from "the Heavens above" with never ending peace, knowing you have become a young woman we are all so proud of. You touch every heart and soul of those you know; and you share your true compassion and generous spirit with all who love you so very much.

You've worked hard in every challenge you've faced. And you carry yourself with strong integrity and grace. Though you are blessed with awesome physical beauty, your inner beauty radiates brightly all around you.

You've made your entire family and circle of friends proud to be a part of your world, and what is even more important is that your sacred inner beauty will surely make a difference in every aspect of this grand world you embrace so fully.

It is time to go forward into your future clearly and confidently you make a difference into the many lives you will touch deeply, and the movements you will bring deep to this earth you are honored to embrace.

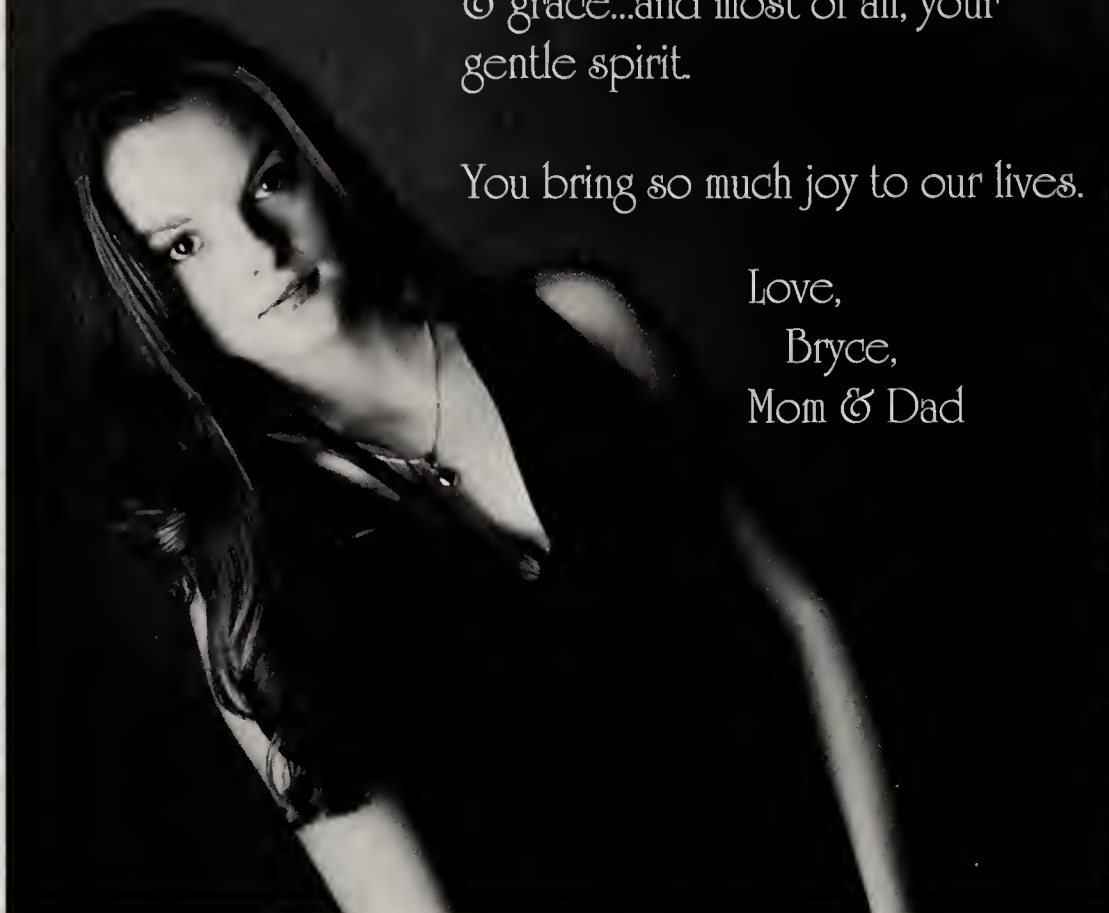

Precious Isabel, I love you beyond measure. It is a privilege to be your through the younger years of fort building, dress up and hours of horseplay...

 fast forward to years spent with friends...
 they know who they are...
 carefree laughter echoes...still making us grin.

So many challenges you've taken on be they small or great...
 it was during these moments where you learned the most from mistakes...
 You're athletic, you're creative and intelligent too...you have such incredible gifts to share...
 it's all up to you.

Then came the years of testing your own...
 we've all gone through it...remembering the very seeds that we've sown.
 It was those years that you learned...what we know, you learned who you are...it's what we see glow.
 Inside is what matters...it's who we really see...
 It is you and your heart...a true beauty.

Now open your eyes wide...take it all in...the sun, sand and surf...
 our surround of ocean.
 Step slowly feel the sand as you make your way along our shore...
 Inhale its beauty...it will remain forever and more.
 A shift of the tides a ripple and the waves...it is here where you've learned to enjoy simple days...

Now lift your head and turn face the sun...
 it's time to move forward a new journey has begun.
 Look back once more and know that it's all yours...
 you will always find home Jillian...if you simply...head for the shore.

Victoria,

I Wish you Enough

I wish you enough sun to keep your day may appear.

I wish you enough rain to appreciate the sun more.

I wish you enough happiness to keep your spirit alive.

*I wish you enough pain so that the smallest joys in life may appear bigger.
 I wish you enough gain to satisfy your wanting.*

I wish you enough loss to appreciate all that you possess.

I wish you enough 'Hellos' to get you through the final 'Good-bye'

Cameron,

You have made all of us so proud of you, but we know that the "best" for you is yet to come! As the youngest in the family, you have seen your siblings before you experience their "ups and downs," successes and defeats, but now it's your turn! You have always been the quiet, but determined, and "practical" one, and often appear to be much older and wiser than your eighteen years. Our memories of your childhood are bittersweet, as you, our last, leaves the nest, to choose your path for the future; leisurely days on Howe's Street Beach, ninja turtles and GI Joes, friends and family, pizza parties, holidays and graduations....all will be treasured! Keep your heart and mind wide open, and always believe in yourself! You are a wonderful son, brother, and friend! Whatever your decisions are for the future, remember our love and support will always be with you! Smile and be happy! CONGRATULATIONS CAM!

We love you! Mom, Dad, Liz, Taylor, and Connor

Kelli Jeanne,

You have enriched our lives and it has been a blessing watching you grow into a capable young lady. We know you are chomping at the bit to take your own path in life, but know your home is always here for you and we will always be here for you. We admire your determination, loyalty, talent, creativity, adaptability, and independent spirit, so use these gifts well. Remember family, pets, home, Cape Cod, traveling in and out of the country, quiet times, busy times, friends, favorite foods and fun times. Challenge yourself- for the biggest regrets in life are the things we don't try.

Love,

Mom and Dad and Lilly

We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. You make this world a more beautiful place and we know you will be successful in whatever you choose to do. Keep striving to do your best, keep smiling and know we will always be here for you!

All Our Love,
Mom, Dad, and Kasey

Dylan,

You have filled our lives with laughter and our hearts with great joy with your wonderful sense of humor, warm heart, and easy going nature. As you begin this next phase of your life, be confident in yourself, and embrace new challenges: success will be sure to follow. Take the time to laugh, to play, and to enjoy every moment along the way. Remember we will always be here for you with love and support. We are so very proud of you. You are the light of our lives!

Love, Mom and Dad

Congratulations Dylan! It's finally over! For the last four years, your GPA has been calculated to two decimal points and you've pushed yourself very hard. In college, take a moment every now and then, breathe, and look around you. If something intrigues you, take a chance and go after it. You might just find the life you've dreamed about living. At this moment, you may have ideas of what you want to do with your life, but those ideas will change. Life and the choices you make will change you in many ways. The coming years will be some of the best of your life, so enjoy all they have to offer. See all you can, do what you love, and discover yourself. Buy the ticket, take the ride. Love, Tyler

When you were a baby, you made us laugh with your funny faces and squeals of laughter while you simultaneously wrapped us around your little finger.

When you were a little girl, you played with dinosaurs while your dollhouse gathered cobwebs.

When you grew into a plucky little tomboy, it was almost impossible to keep up with you. "Gottaplaybasesballclimb-treesplaypianobasketballwritemybooksoccerswimmingboogie-boardingplaydrumsasloudasicanskiingsaxaphonecampingfishing-withDaddybicyclingcanBoomercometoo!"

When you entered adolescence, you discovered that dresses weren't so bad, but you were NEVER going to pierce your ears because you hated needles (which made our "No Tattoo" rule unnecessary). Guitars became the coolest thing on earth and summer camp was the coolest place.

Now that you are graduating high school, we wanted you to know that we have loved every minute! You are one special girl, creative, sharp, witty, and kind. Full of fabulous contradictions and always ready for a new adventure. You never followed a different drummer because you played the drum so beautifully yourself!

Dear Lilly,

From the moment you came into this world, you have been a bundle of energy; radiating Life, Love, & Laughter. As a little girl you looked at every situation with curiosity & wonderment. As you grew to understand GOOD, you began showing enormous empathy towards all whose feelings were being denied; your quest for justice was unstoppable. Now we see this spectacular, quick witted young woman before us; illuminating beauty from the inside out. Your giving spirit guides your commanding presence and although we will always be at your side cheering you on, we will never be surprised as we continue to mark the many amazing accomplishments that you achieve in your bright future. We Love You and we are incredibly proud of you! XOXO Mom, Digger, LaMar, Nikki, Nico, Bri, Faith & Alissah

NAUSET'S OWN

MARCH MADNESS

Spring Fever!

The month of March is often known for March Madness and the NCAA Basketball tournaments, but at Nauset we fit a month into a week and kicked it off with a relaxing Pajama Day, and DJ dance party at lunch. Tuesday night was Rock Night to benefit the senior class. Students glided and socialized on the ice. Finally, the week ended with a 'Rock the Mic' talent show in Nauset's very own auditorium where many students and parents gathered to cheer on these musically inclined musicians. The show amazed everyone!

Contestants from Rock the Mic line up for a quick snap shot after performing (far right).

Partners in Jazz, Tommy Read and Nick Suchecki get into the music during their jazz performance.

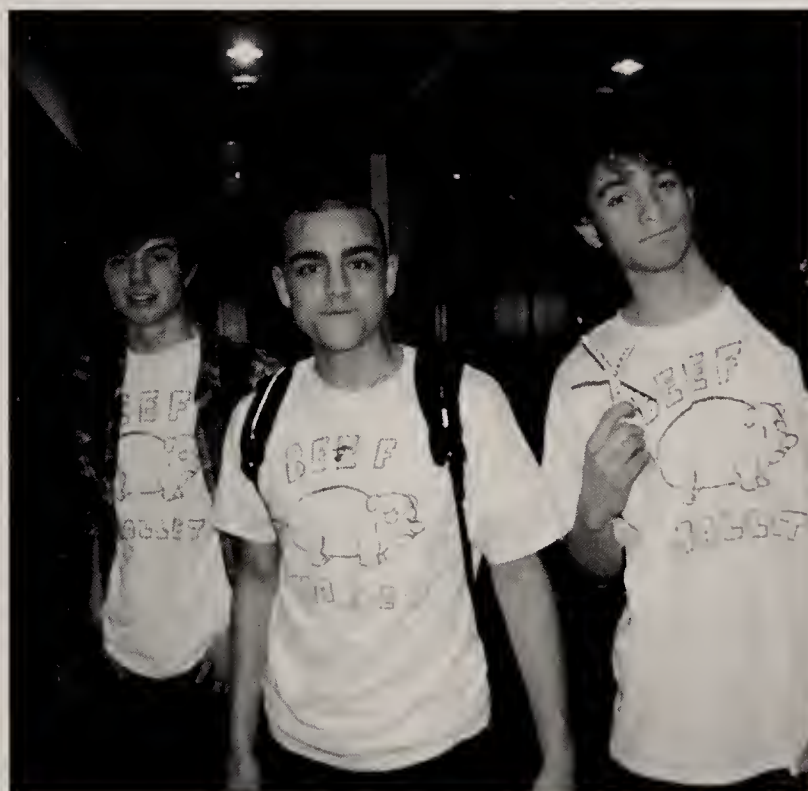

Teresa Brown, Krystal Ketler, and Payal Patel strut their pajama pants and teddy bears to school on the first day of March Madness.

Megan Trainor along with the rest of Rock the Mic performers came together to sing "Have a little Faith in Me" to end the night (Above).

Thomas Rodricks, Marcus Seletsky, and Toby Ellis take a quick snapshot after performing (above).

THE ONES WHO MADE IT ALL HAPPEN

YEARBOOK STAFF

The production of the 2010 yearbook is a year round project that requires a lot of dedication and time. This group of hard working individuals have all gone beyond the school day and spent time to help meet deadlines throughout the year. Without these members and the cooperation of the Nauset administration, faculty, staff, coaches, and parents this book of memories would not be possible.

DEDICATION

Mr. MacDonald is our assistant principal, an inspiring coach, as well as a dedicated husband and father. In our four years at Nauset High School, he has been a positive influence which has helped us make it to graduation day.

Born in Charlestown, MA, Mr. Mac attended Matignon High School in Cambridge. He then graduated from Springfield College with a B.S. and later received his Master's degree at the University of Mass Boston. Beginning his career as a physical education teacher, and then moving up to the Dean of Students, he came to Nauset after thirteen years at Cape Cod Tech. He also took on the role of Nauset's football coach when our team needed his help the most.

Mr. Mac's presence on the football field and in the courtyard are only a small portion of his total impact on Nauset students. Mr. Mac strives to make strong connections with students. With that being said, the graduating class of 2010 dedicates this yearbook to him, knowing that he will always be behind us 100%.

Coach MacDonald, a dedicated leader and mentor.

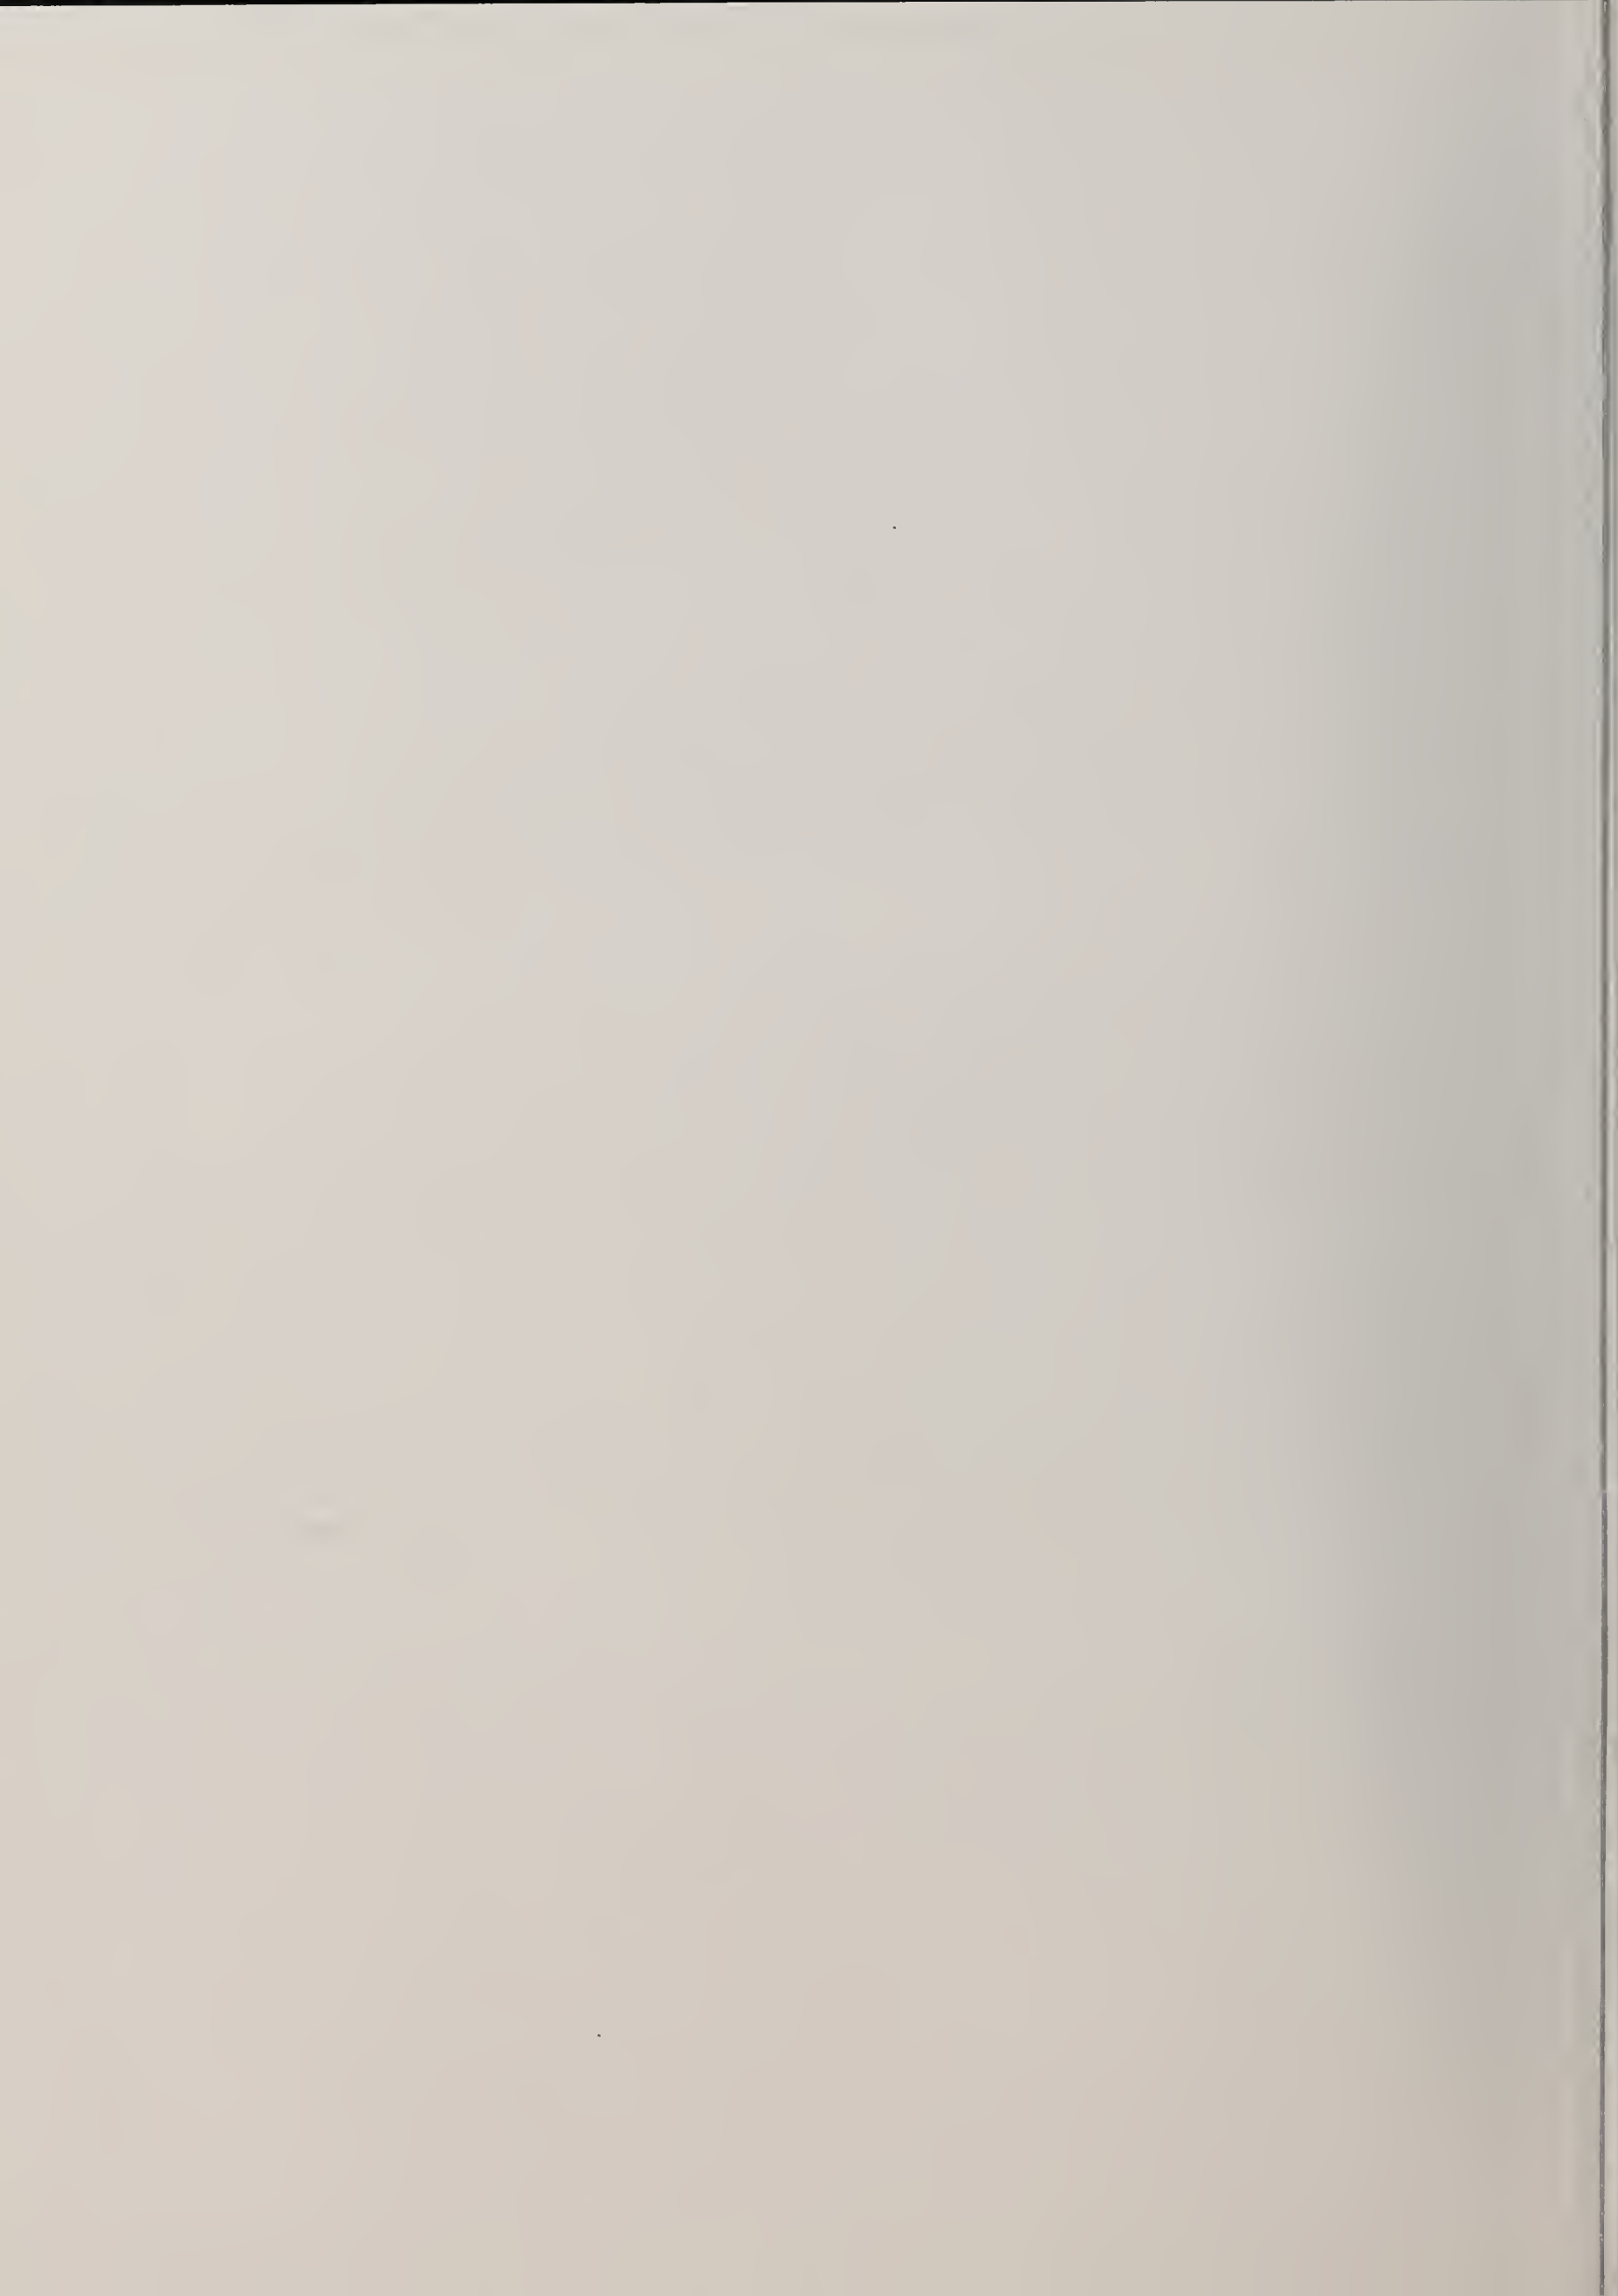

Mr. MacDonald is the proud father of three Nauset graduates. His wife, Kathy, is also a valuable Nauset High School employee.

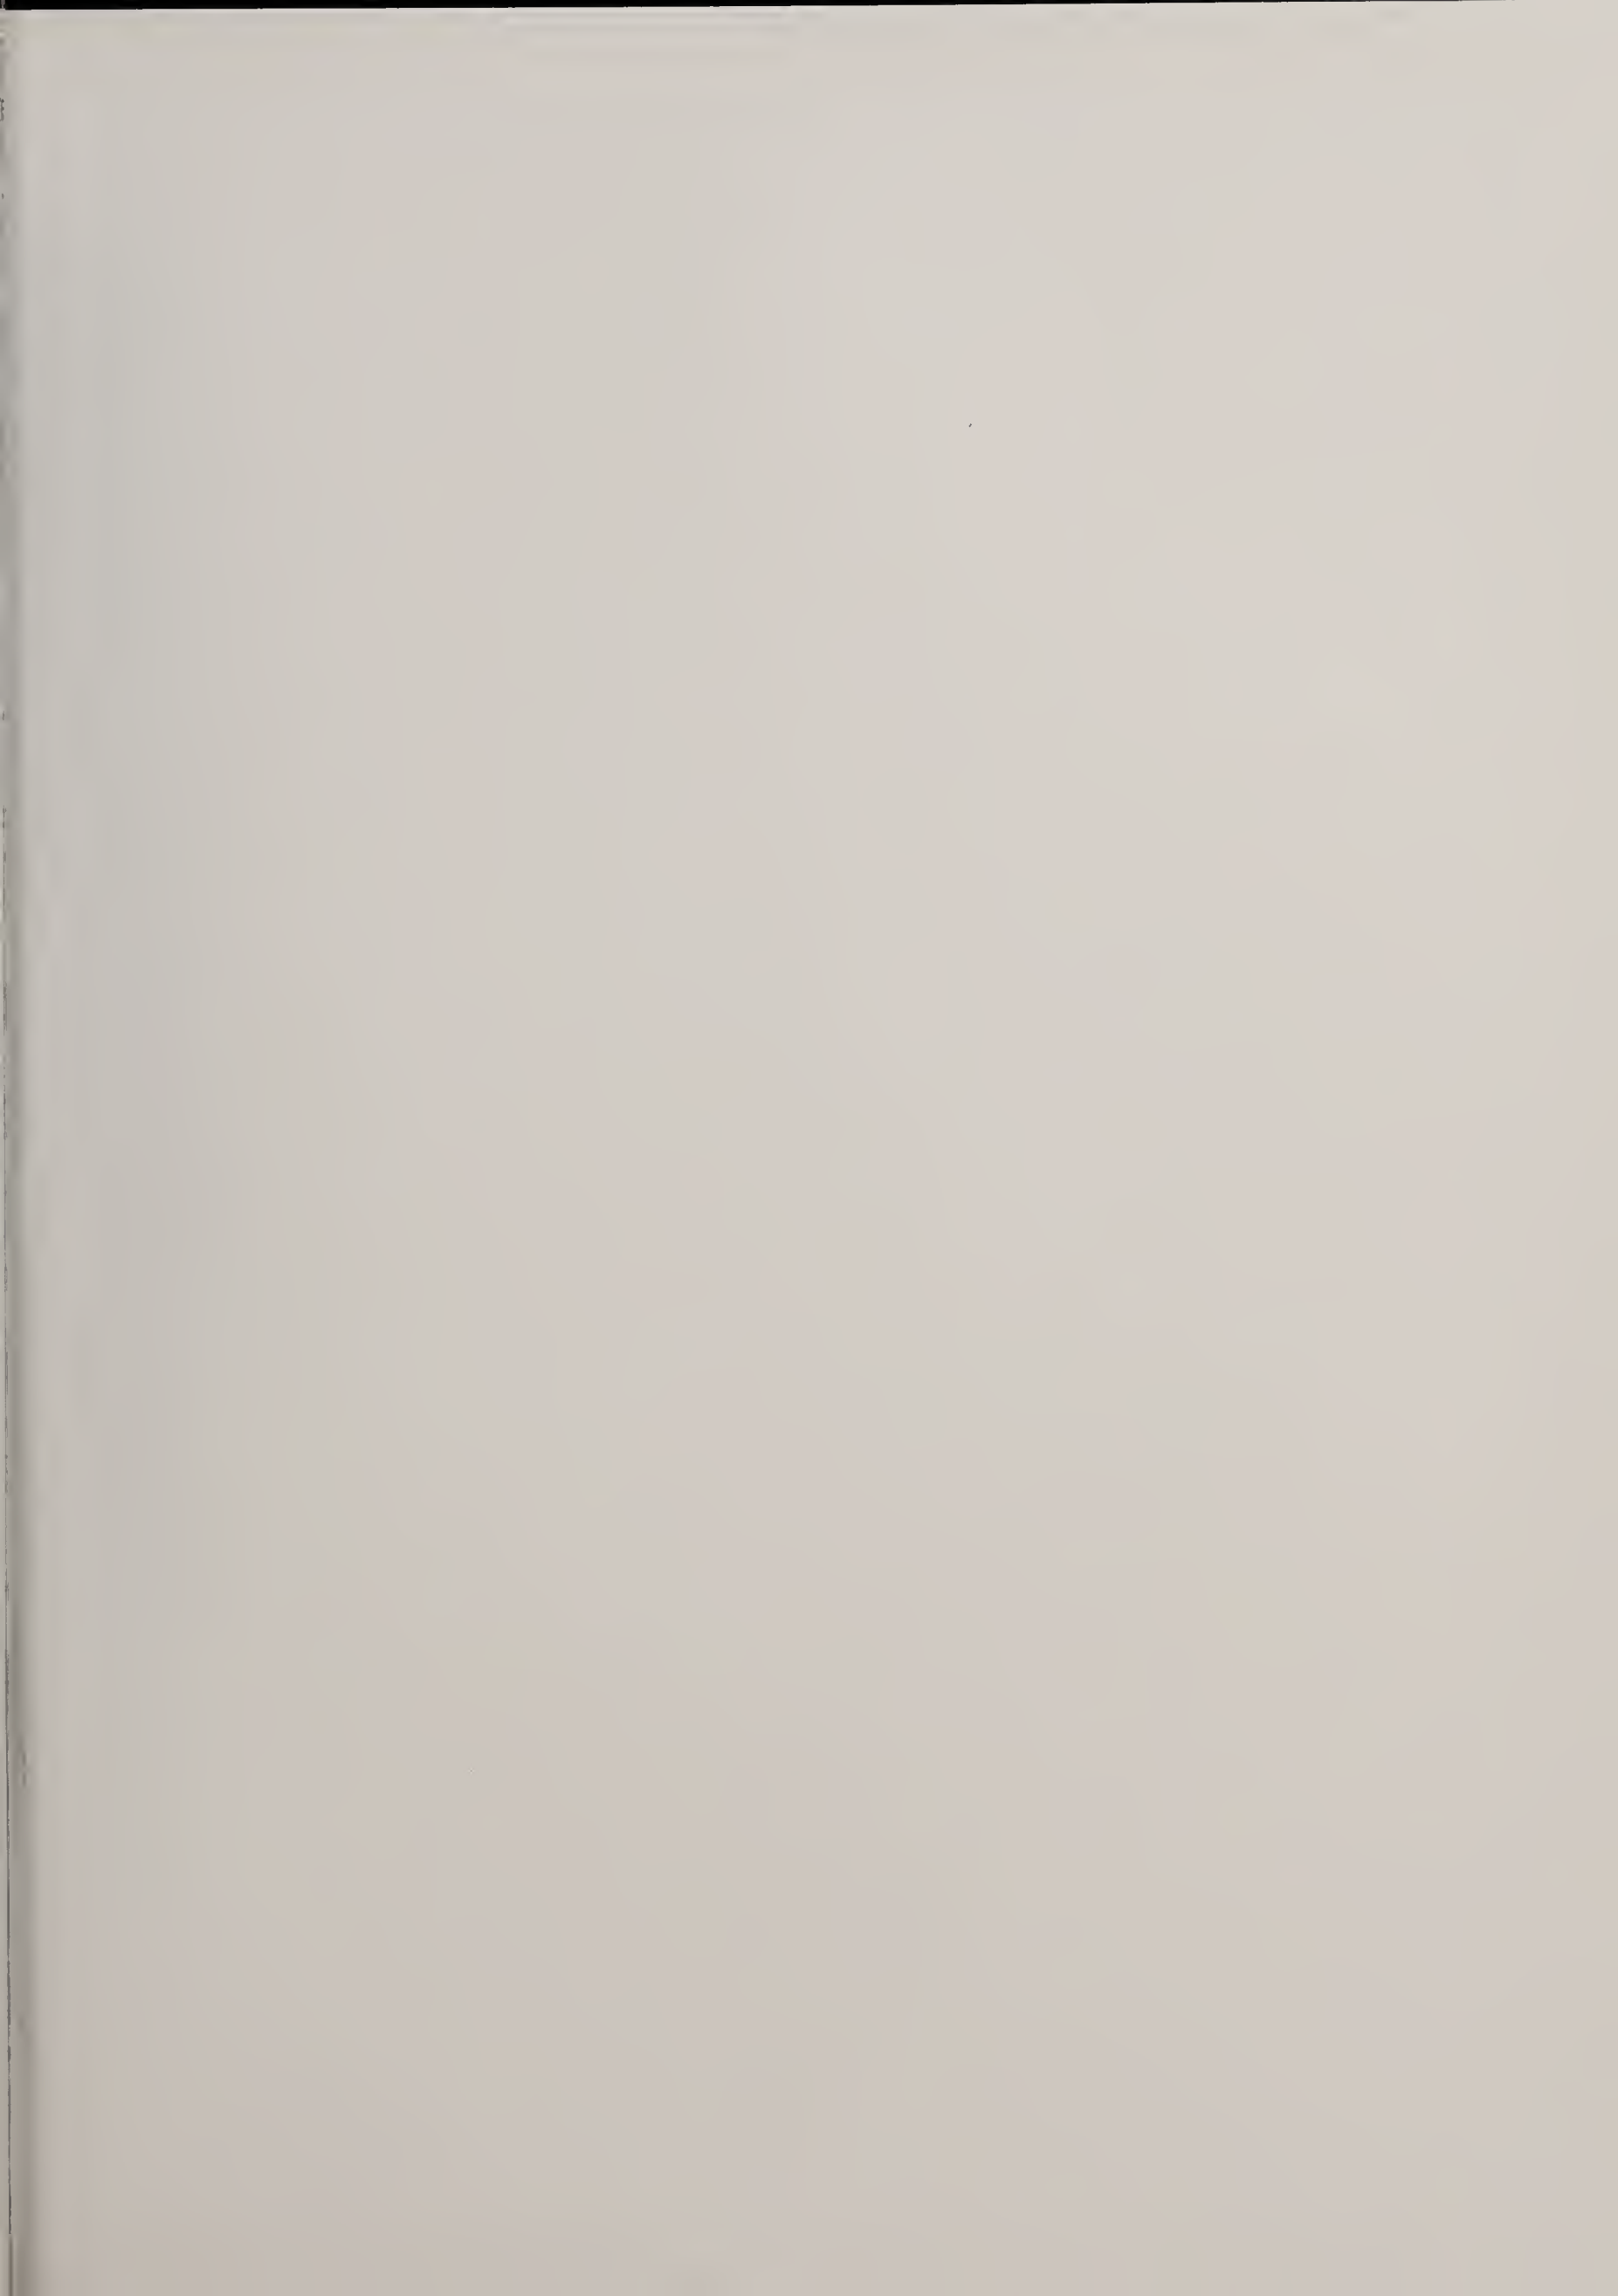

Mr. Mac, alongside Dr. Markovich, remind us all to keep moving in the courtyard... "Boys and girls, get to class!"
